Malaysia Backs U.K. B-52s Strafe On Rhodesian Policy Red Targets

LONDON (Reuters) — Malaysia today urged critics of Prime Minister Wilson's Rhodesia policy not to break up the Commonwealth because of the 10-month deadlock over Premier Ian Smith's seizure of independence.

Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman made his plea at an opening session of the Commonwealth prime ministers conference, which decided that Wilson should preside over the whole meeting, including the potentially explosive Rhodesia debate.

The Malaysian leader referred directly to reports that a number of African nations—including Zambia and Sierra Leone—have threatened to quit the Commonwealth unless Britain ended the Rhodesia crisis and to their satisfaction.

"We must ask ourselves whether the action we propose to take, or ask Britain to take, would not seriously involve her in domestic trouble to the extent of bringing about the downfall of the British government," Rahman said.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B-52s bombed targets in the demilitarized zone again today while the government asked the International Control Commission to inspect the area between North and South Viet Nam to verify the presence of Communist forces.

U.S. pilots flew a near-record 152 missions against the north Monday. They reported shooting up three trains and knocking out numerous trucks.

U.S. marines reported killing 26 Viet Cong soldiers in a day-long fight against an entrenched enemy battalion about 18 miles southwest of Da Nang. It was the only major ground contact reported.

The doubleheader launching is to start at 8:48 a.m. EDT Friday when an Atlas rocket is to drill the Agena into orbit. A Titan II is to start Gemini 11 in pursuit at 10:25 a.m.

Politicians and candidates stepped up their campaigns for the Sept. 12 B.C. provincial election Monday, with only seven days of electioneering left.

Premier Bennett is setting a fast clip in the final week, as the Social Credit Party makes an all-out bid to pick up opposition seats.

His stepped-up schedule now calls for five speeches on successive nights on Vancouver Island, the Lower Mainland and the south-central Interior.

He said he had contacts in Gary which "could have provided a sanctuary for me." He would not elaborate.

Leishman said the five-year-old plane they stole, a Mooney Mark 21, had been refueled at Springfield, Iowa, and that they had to make two previous stops.

BEATLE LOCKS TO BE SHORN

LONDON (AP) — Beatle John Lennon is going to have his hair cut. Breaking away from the other Beatles — Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr — for the first time, John is going to make a movie on his own. He will play the part of a soldier in the film How I Won the War.

For the part of a soldier he will be unable to wear the mophead hairstyle the Beatles made famous. John flew to Celle, near Hannover, Germany, Monday to start filming.

Niagara Trio Nabs $50,000

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — Five armed and masked men held up five night employees at the Skylon Tower in the Niagara International Centre early today and escaped with about $50,000 cash.

Robert LeBosque, manager of the tower, said the money included the entire weekend receipts. The skylon is a 520-foot observation tower overlooking Niagara Falls from the Canadian side. It contains three floors in its dome, two of them licensed restaurants and third an observation deck.

Gemini Pair Set For 'Go'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 11 astronauts today began final preparations for their launching Friday on a three-day space flight.

Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. will concentrate in the next few days on reviewing their flight plan and practising key phases of the demanding mission in a spacecraft simulator.

The next-to-last Gemini shot will attempt four major rendezvous and linkup with an Agena satellite, a dash to a record altitude of 363 miles; flying formation while tied to the Agena by a 100-foot cord, and an automatic re-entry through the atmosphere.

Gordon plans two space excursions during the journey—a 107-minute space walk Saturday and a 140-minute "space stand" Sunday in which he'll poke the upper part of his body through a hatch to photograph the stars.

The walk includes work with a space power tool, a step forward developing devices for future astronauts to repair satellites and assemble space stations. He'll use a nitrogen-powered hand gun for manoeuvring on a 30-foot lifeline.

The doubleheader launching is to start at 8:48 a.m. EDT Friday when an Atlas rocket is to drill the Agena into orbit. A Titan II is to start Gemini 11 in pursuit at 10:25 a.m.

White Assassin Slays Verwoerd

Chief Apostle For Apartheid

By REUTERS

Hendrik Frensch Verwoerd was South Africa's chief apostle of apartheid—the policy of separate racial development criticized throughout the world. He was the policy's architect and its unwavering supporter, remaining unmoved by the monolithic opposition to apartheid from black Africa and from all other liberal opinion.

Verwoerd, who was born Sept. 8, 1901, rose from professor of psychology to prime minister of the then union—now republic—of South Africa.

Born in Amsterdam of Dutch parents, he became an ardent nationalist from his school days in South Africa. He studied at Stellenbosch University and in Germany at Leipzig, Hamburg and Berlin before returning as psychology lecturer to Stellenbosch in 1924.

More than six feet tall, a rapid and impatient speaker, Verwoerd first became politically prominent as the editor of Die Transvaler, which he helped launch in 1937.

Elected a senator in 1948, he became minister for native affairs in 1950 and fostered the successive apartheid laws. At the same time, he improved social services for the Negroes, insisting however on their separate development. He was chosen prime minister by the Nationalist party in September, 1958, following the death of Jan Strijdom.

Apart from his apartheid laws, Verwoerd in history as the statesman under whose government the South African people elected to become a republic.

Thousands of Negroes answered the call—and the notorious Sharpeville incident occurred.

At Sharpeville, a Negro township, police opened fire on Negroes and 67 were killed and 183 wounded.

On April 9, 1960, came the attempt on Verwoerd's life. Minutes after he opened an international trade fair, he was shot twice at point-blank range, in the face below the right ear, and in the right side of his neck.

His alleged assailant, David Pratt, a wealthy English-born farmer aged 50, was subsequently charged but found mentally ill and taken to an asylum.

Though critically injured, the premier was out of hospital in six weeks.

CHICAGO (AP)—U.S. traffic deaths during the Labor Day weekend hit an all-time high for any summer holiday—with a total of more than 600.

The 605 deaths reported at the end of the 78-hour holiday period by midnight Monday night topped the previous record of 563 set in last year's three-day Labor Day weekend. The number also exceeded the previous record traffic toll of 576 for any summer holiday period, which was set during the three-day July 4 Independence Day holiday this year.

HENDRIK VERWOERD ... sudden death

Messenger In Parliament Walks Up With A Knife

CAPE TOWN (CP)—A white messenger who would have expected to bring no change in the government's racial-separation policy, apartheid, since Verwoerd's ruling Nationalist party controls Parliament by a margin of almost 3 to 1.

Doctors who tried to save Verwoerd said he suffered four stab wounds, one in a neck artery and three in the upper chest.

Dr. J. C. Burger, medical superintendent of the hospital where Verwoerd was taken, told reporters the knife entered Verwoerd's heart and he probably died instantly.

After Verwoerd was rushed to hospital, MPs stood in the lobby discussing the attack until summoned back into session by the senior cabinet member, Finance Minister Theophilus Dönges, who became acting premier.

After announcing Verwoerd's death, Dönges identified the assassin in a position to plan and execute the most spectacular progress in every field. His death is a shock for every right-thinking person.

The Nationalist party will choose the new premier. Dönges is a likely successor. Another possibility is Balthazar Vorster, who as justice minister administers the suppression of communism laws under which suspects can be held without trial.

OTTAWA (CP) — Acting Prime Minister Martin said Tuesday in a statement on the assassination of Prime Minister Verwoerd of South Africa:

"The Canadian government regrets this shocking act of violence. I have this morning sent to the acting prime minister of South Africa a message of condolence.

"This regret, of course, does not affect this government's well-known attitude on apartheid. We thoroughly disagree with this policy but our difference of views does not dilute our regret at this brutal assassination."

Speaking at a press conference, he said: "I have always said the South African apartheid was deplorable, but murder can't solve anything."

Dr. Ramsey is in Canada on a 32-day visit at the invitation of the Anglican Church of Canada.

LONDON (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury said Tuesday the assassination of Hendrik Verwoerd, prime minister of South Africa, will not necessarily improve racial tensions in that country.

Railway Strike Appears Ended Province-Wide Survey Shows

VANCOUVER (CP) — Eight heavily-laden freight trains rumbled eastbound from the lower mainland Monday, signaling an apparent end to the railway strike in the province.

First train out was a Canadian Pacific freight, which left Vancouver at about noon. It was followed by five more CPR trains and two Canadian National National freight trains Monday night.

No passenger trains have moved in or from Vancouver, but spokesmen for both railways were hopeful that passenger service would resume by late today as men return to their jobs.

The CPR has flown more than 200 passengers between Calgary and Vancouver during the past few days.

The potentially explosive situation at Kamloops in the B.C. Interior took a turn for the better Monday when 500 rail workers—the last major group of strike holdouts in the province—voted to return to work today.

Kamloops is the only point in B.C. where both the CNR and CPR main lines intersect.

Labor Day Weekend Deaths Rise To 126, With 13 In B.C.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least 13 persons died accidentally in British Columbia during the Labor Day holiday weekend and the death of a 14th person, a boy in a car which plunged into a river, was in doubt.

Labor Day weekend, 1966, went into the record books as the worst holiday period for traffic fatalities in Canadian history.

A Canadian Press survey between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday night showed at least 126 persons killed in accidents, 102 of them in traffic.

GRAND BEND, Ont. (CP) — Thirty-three youths arrested during weekend riots here were fined a total of $1,100 Tuesday. All pleaded guilty.

Grads At George Elliot Given Life's Guidelines

WINFIELD—Principal Peter Greer welcomed the parents and friends of the 31 students who were honored at graduation ceremonies held in the gymnasium of George Elliot Secondary School Friday.

Out of a Grade 12 class of 33, 31 students graduated. A fine achievement, said Mr. Greer. He thanked the students for their co-operation throughout the years and said: "Your education is not finished and you must expect to re-educate yourselves over and over again throughout the future years."

nagan Centre and Oyame Women's Institute for the top student in home economics. The Industrial Arts Award was presented to Robert Reimer by Vince Blaskovich.

U.S. GUEST

Mr. Greer then introduced Val Keller of California, coach of the U.S. National Olympic Volleyball Team, who is in the area attending the four-day workout to select 12 boys and 12 girls to represent the province at the Centennial Winter Games to be held in Quebec in February. The selection is being held at the Okanagan Athletic Camp.

He congratulated the boys who played on the George Elliot volleyball team which won the B.C. championship. "What a feat when a school of this size can play in the provincial championship and win."

He said he was very impressed with the wonderful scenery, the school, the fruit trees, etc., but was surprised to see no fig leaves in evidence "for this has to be the Garden of Eden."

Miss Penny Pollard, a former student of George Elliot, then told of a meeting held recently under the guidance of Mr. Vince Blaskovich which discussed the formation of a G.E. Alumni Association for the ex-students of George Elliot. A steering committee was set up and on Dec. 28 an afternoon of sports and games will be held at the school followed by a general meeting with a banquet and dance at the Matador Inn, Kelowna in the evening. She invited all the graduates to join the Alumni.

Valedictorian was Ross McCoubrey, president of the 1965-66 Students' Council. He said how hard it is to say goodbye, "the difficulty will not be leaving these physical walls that have housed our daily activities for six years. It will be the spirit found in every corner and crevice of this building that we shall miss," he said.

"This building, the staff and our school friends have molded us to the individuals we are today, but the thoughts go with the words George Elliot and the memories we now have shall never escape us."

"The reputation of George Elliot is a rare thing indeed. We of the 1966 graduating class only hope that we have in some small way bettered that reputation, saying goodbye to a 200 student high school that has already gained province-wide recognition is a hard thing to do," he said.

He thanked first the parents,

"with their never-failing guidance and encouragement, then our teachers who very patiently have passed on their knowledge to us, our school board who has provided us with the best possible equipment, our community supporters who have faithfully helped us through thick and thin and finally our vast graduates who have given us among many other things an ideal to strive to reach and if possible to better, to the future graduates of George Elliot Secondary School. We pass on the words of John MacRae: "To you from failing hands we throw the torch—be yours to hold it high."

UIC Protest Listened To

Protests against the planned discontinuation of the Unemployment Insurance Commission office in Vernon have won a review of the closure order. William Malcolm, president of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, said last week.

He told a chamber executive meeting that a UIC inspector had been in the city and that the commission was reconsidering the shutting down of the Vernon office and the transfer of its operations to Kelowna.

The review followed representations made by the chamber city, MP Howard Johnston and MP for Kootenay East James Byrne.

"This would go to show that the squeaky wheel gets the grease," Mr. Malcolm commented.

Mayor Lionel Mercier, who was attending the chamber meeting, said he intended to pursue the matter which he meets with Labor Minister Nicholson and others in Ottawa about Oct. 8.

The protest followed announcement that the UIC was closing its Vernon and Penticton offices and centralizing operations in Kelowna in the interests of economy and efficiency.

Carpenters Row May Be Settled

The month-old labor dispute between B.C.'s carpenters and contractors may be settled this week, W. E. Philpott, industrial inquiry commissioner, said Monday in Vancouver.

Mr. Philpott, a Vancouver lawyer appointed to look into the dispute by Labor Minister Peterson, said: "I have had talks over the weekend with both the parties concerned and I have made progress."

"Both sides badly want to settle this dispute. I have more meetings fixed for Tuesday and Thursday and I am confident the case will come up with a settlement which is acceptable to both sides."

Mr. Philpott said he did not understand the action by Victoria contractors who announced Friday they have formally asked Mr. Peterson to allow a vote among Victoria carpenters on their own settlement plan.

The settlement proposed by the contractors provides for a 40-hour week for carpenters and a wage increase from $3.49 per hour to $3.70 until April, when the pay would be boosted to $4. The major contract demand of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners is for a 37½-hour week. Some Interior carpenters have already settled with the contractors.

CNE Attendance Near 3 Million

TORONTO (CP) — The 88th Canadian National Exhibition ended Monday with attendance nearing the 3,000,000 goal for the 15-day fair and a promise of bigger and better things next year.

President W. H. Evans told a grandstand audience top priority consideration will be given for "open Sundays" in 1967 and that other efforts will be made to compete with Montreal's Expo 67.

While the attendance of 2,987,000 this year fell short of the goal, which has been surpassed only in 1962 and 1963, it was 21,500 over the total figure in 1965. Attendance Monday was 280,000. Last year's Labor Day figure was 261,000.

FOREST REPORT

Kelowna District Still Avoids Fires

No forest fires have broken out in the Kelowna area during the past week and the one fire still burning is well under control, H. C. Hewlett, forest ranger, said today.

SUMMER TRAINING

Major-General Pearkes Checks BCDs In Action

The British Columbia Dragoon units who have just returned from summer concentration training at the Chilcotin area, were honored during the week-end by an official visit from their Honorary Colonel, Major-General G. R. Pearkes, Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia.

For this distinguished soldier and statesman, who arrived at camp late last week, it was a return to a training area that he is well acquainted with, for in 1926, as a lieutenant-colonel in the Canadian Army, he made a reconnaissance of the Chilcotin training area to determine if it should be retained by the Department of National Defence. No doubt as a result of the favorable report submitted, the BCDs along with other militia units in B.C. were able to train in this area for the first time.

Major-General Pearkes, who requested that he be addressed only as "Colonel" during his two-day stay with the BCDs, was escorted to camp lines by Lt.-Col. T. C. Chapman. With all ranks on parade, "Colonel" Pearkes presented the Canadian Forces Decoration to Major R. J. Talbot, corporal stripes to trooper R. N. Garbutt and certificates of proficiency in signals to 10 unit personnel.

At an all ranks dinner in BCD lines the honorary colonel told of the past history of this famous regiment, and its gallant record in two world wars. "Colonel" Pearkes served with the BCDs in the First World War, when it was known as the 2nd CMRs (Canadian Mounted Rifles).

In the Kamloops forest district, of which Kelowna is a part, 26 fires broke out during the past week.

This brings the total number of fires to date to 550, down from last year's total of 779 for the same period.

Firefighting costs this year are still considerably lower than last year. To date it has cost $77,000 to fight fires in the Kamloops forest district. Last year for the same period, firefighting costs totalled $297,000.

The fire hazard in the South Okanagan and Merritt areas is high. In the rest of the district the hazard is low to moderate.

Continued dry weather in southern British Columbia is keeping the fire hazard high but in the northern part of the province cool, moist weather has lowered the hazard and decreased the number of outbreaks in the Prince George and Prince Rupert forest districts, according to the B.C. Forest Service.

Although rain has not provided general relief, the number of new outbreaks in the province last week dropped to almost one third the previous week's total.

There were 58 outbreaks in the province, almost half of them in the Kamloops forest district.

During the week 94 fires were extinguished leaving 40 still burning.

The total number of fires in B.C. this year is 1,724 compared with 2,440 for the same period last year.

Firefighting in B.C. has cost $586,000 this year, compared with $2,261,500 for the same period last year.

Firefighting last year cost $36,000 throughout the province.

The outlook for the coming week is for a moderate drying trend on the southeast coast of Vancouver Island and lower mainland. Little change is expected in the rest of the province.

On a similar charge, Norma Prince, Prince George, pleaded guilty and was fined $35 and John Philip Roy Parsons, Vancouver, was arrested in the lobby of a downtown hotel. A guilty plea was entered by the prosecutor for Parsons who was released in his father's custody. He was fined $35.

The prosecutor also entered a guilty plea for Charles James Atkins of no fixed address, on an intoxication charge. He was fined $50. The accused was arrested as a result of a complaint of two men begging in front of a downtown gift shop. The begging was denied.

George Clarence Hindle, told he was under arrest. The prosecutor said a scuffle occurred and Delaney was escorted to the cells still fighting. Neault became involved when he saw his friend being arrested. Homer Robinson, appearing for the two men, said Delaney was an Irishman with an Irishman's temper. The two men were remanded in custody.

Seven other arrests were made during the week-end. Jack Mihailovits, Dymna, pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place and was fined $50. He was found Sunday at 9:20 p.m. near the Royal Anne hotel with imitation rum extract in his possession. The arresting officer described his condition as being "a disgusting sight." The accused said he had a job picking apples.

Darvie Norman Lane, Haney, pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining food by fraud and was remanded to Wednesday for sentencing. The prosecutor said the accused ordered a steak at a downtown hotel and after it was consumed said he had no money. Police were told the man was supposed to have had an overcoat of furs and took them to the hospital where this was confirmed. He was later arrested.

Henry Swakum, Merritt, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place and

Federal Plan Word Expected From Minister

Northern Affairs Minister Laing is expected to announce Wednesday a new federal project for the Okanagan.

Mr. Laing is scheduled to speak in Winfield at the Duck Lake Inn at 8:30 p.m.

With Monday's provincial election in sight, campaign activity in the Okanagan is increasing.

In the Liberal ranks, Leo Matte, South Okanagan candidate, spoke in Summerland Monday night and Pat McGeer, a Coast Liberal, visits in Kelowna today.

Mr. McGeer was the Liberal MLA for Vancouver Point Grey in the last legislature.

In his Summerland speech, Mr. Matte reviewed the Liberal platform and repledged himself to the fight for the "forgotten" man—the farmers, orchardists and ranchers of the Okanagan.

Mr. Matte also challenged Premier Bennett, Social Credit candidate in the South Okanagan, to a television debate on democracy.

The New Democratic Party in B.C. has lost a champion. Woodrow Lloyd, leader of the Saskatchewan opposition, has called off his barnstorming tour of B.C. because of a special session of the Saskatchewan legislature.

The NDP leader was to speak in Salmon Arm tonight.

The North Okanagan NDP candidate, Dr. James McAnulty, left Friday night to attend a conference in Europe. He returns to Canada this week to resume his campaign.

Dr. McAnulty was invited to present a paper to the International Conference on Pollution Control in Munich, Germany.

The World Health Organization has also asked for copies of his papers on pollution. Dr. McAnulty said he will return from the conference with first-hand, up-to-date information which will help Okanagan communities to solve the pollution problem.

Dr. McAnulty said he is "convinced" the information to be gained at this conference is important enough to leave his election campaign for a few days.

Premier Bennett, the South Okanagan's Social Credit candidate, has scheduled an election rally for Saturday night in Kelowna.

Candidates running for election in the South Okanagan are: Premier Bennett, Social Credit; Leo Matte, Liberal; and Tom Rose, NDP.

In the North Okanagan the candidates are: Dr. James McAnulty, NDP; Frank Becker, Liberal; Mrs. L. T. (Pat) Jordan, Social Credit; and Ellwood Rice, independent.

WOMAN DROWNS

to 8,200. Fred Macklin, secretary treasurer of the district, favors an estimate of 8,000.

A more complete picture will likely be known by Wednesday. The first day of school for pupils is usually a round of registration and renewing friendships. Teachers have it tougher. When students are dismissed at noon, teachers must settle down to sheafs of statistics, registrations and time tables.

There are 38 schools in the area, staffed by 321 teachers. Already the school board has revised its estimate of the number of teachers needed.

Three more teachers must be hired this year and the school board is advertising for them now, Mr. Macklin says.

Space problems, a headache during most of the summer planning, have been worked out. "We have every child under a roof and in a seat," Mr. Macklin says.

"The problem was tight this year, since some school additions are not finished yet, but we've been able to cope without having to resort to double shifting."

Whatever this year's total of teachers and students, it will be up from last year. There were some 300 teachers in the district last year and pupil registration totalled some 7,500.

Drivers' Test Shown Again

The Canadian drivers' test is being rebroadcast on the CBC television network today at 9:30 p.m.

Originally telecast last spring, the program featured a deluge of telephone calls, letters, inquiries and suggestions. Most callers praised the test and many requested a repeat performance.

The test produced its share of surprises. Many drivers discovered they were neither as proficient nor as capable at the car wheel as they assumed.

In the studio audience young graduates of high school driver education programs produced a better group score than a group of professional drivers.

At home, many housewives scored higher than their husbands.

A national survey showed that 42 per cent of a cross section of Canada's population failed the test. Seven per cent earned an excellent rating (88 or above).

Tonight's rebroadcast is produced by the CBC in co-operation with the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

Riders Cause Parks Damage

Horses and bicycles are causing problems for the parks and recreation commission in the Glenmore area.

Superintendent G. V. Smith said the Jack Robertson Memorial Park was recently seeded with grass and some people riding through the park are damaging the newly-seeded sections.

Mr. Smith asked immediate residents of the park to keep their children off the seeded area and phone the parks office if they saw others in the park.

Downtown Street Fracas Puts Two Men Into Court

Two men were remanded in magistrate's court today to Wednesday for sentencing on charges laid as a result of a fracas on a downtown street Saturday.

Morris Delaney, Cloverdale, pleaded guilty to three charges, resisting a police officer, driving while his licence was under suspension and driving without due care and attention. Roland Albert Neault, June Springs Rd., pleaded guilty to obstructing a police officer.

The prosecutor said Delaney was spotted by constables on patrol who ordered him to stop his car. The accused was said to have speeded up and police chased him to the foot of Queensway where the car was stopped. He was asked for his driver's licence and when he refused to produce it he was told he was under arrest. The prosecutor said a scuffle occurred and Delaney was escorted to the cells still fighting. Neault became involved when he saw his friend being arrested. Homer Robinson, appearing for the two men, said Delaney was an Irishman with an Irishman's temper. The two men were remanded in custody.

Seven other arrests were made during the week-end. Jack Mihailovits, Dymna, pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place and was fined $50. He was found Sunday at 9:20 p.m. near the Royal Anne hotel with imitation rum extract in his possession. The arresting officer described his condition as being "a disgusting sight." The prosecutor said the accused ordered a steak at a downtown hotel and after it was consumed said he had no money. Police were told the man was supposed to have had an overcoat of furs and took them to the hospital where this was confirmed. He was later arrested.

Henry Swakum, Merritt, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place and was fined $35. He said he lay down beside the highway to sleep and the police came along and arrested him.

On a similar charge, Norma Prince, Prince George, pleaded guilty and was fined $35 and John Philip Roy Parsons, Vancouver, was arrested in the lobby of a downtown hotel. A guilty plea was entered by the prosecutor for Parsons who was released in his father's custody. He was fined $35.

IT'S THAT TIME

Police and other traffic safety officials today urged motorists to watch carefully for the 8,000 School District 23 (Kelowna) students who headed back to classrooms today.

For the next 10 months drivers are asked to make a special effort to see they are not the cause of an accident in which a student is injured.

WAYNE TADI OF WINFIELD ... executing a roll save at clinic

Winfield Camp Volleyball Hot Bed

The search for a universal sport which will appeal to Canada's entire youthful population has had unexpected results here in the Okanagan Valley.

For the past five days more than 60 young volleyball players worked 12 hours a day to improve their tactics and playing ability in the hopes they will be named to the B.C. team which will compete in the first Canadian Winter Games, February in Quebec City.

One might ask why volleyball ranks so high on the Sport's and Fitness Council's list of sports which could be classified as a universal activity?

Volleyball can be played by the masses. Four, six, eight, ten or twelve.

There is no real limit to the number of players that can participate at one time.

How does this tie in with the Okanagan? The B.C. Volleyball Association chose Winfield's Okanagan Athletic Camp as the site for training B.C.'s finest players.

Players from throughout the province have attended the school being run by Vic Lindal, coach of the Canadian Junior women's champions from Marpole.

Lindal, who is unbridled in his enthusiasm for the game of volleyball, asked every volleyball coach in the province to send his best players to the school. As a result many of the kids gave up summer jobs and paid their way to Winfield for the clinic. All with the hopes of being named to represent B.C. at the Winter Games.

Lindal and Okanagan Athletic School director, Peter Greer were instrumental in gathering some of the top coaches in Canada to teach at the school.

Heading the list is Val Keller, coach of the United States Olympic team. Keller, who was named to the coaching post in November of 1965, has raised the United States team to world ranking. Keller coached his team to defeats of the Japanese team for the first time ever. He has also come close to defeating the World champion Russians, who performed in Kelowna last year.

Keller, who was amazed at the clinics facilities, said the most important aspect of the school is that "this is a doing school not a listening school. The kids are shown both by the instructors and the blackboard how a certain move or function of the game is to be performed. They do it."

Keller had many able assistants at his side during the camp.

Bob Bratton, coach of the University of Calgary volleyball team was in attendance along with Bob Vosburgh of the University of B.C. Don Smythe, head of the Canadian volleyball Association and coach of the University of Victoria team. Smythe will be coaching the B.C. men's team at the Winter games. Roseka Kogel, a Canadian resident of six months, former player with the Yugoslavian women's team. Kogel was selected as the best player in the Canadian women's championships earlier in 1966. Head of the Canadian volleyball referees, Frank Kurecz was also at the school doing a yeoman's job in teaching the pupils the finer points of the game. Kurecz is a former member of the Hungarian National volleyball team.

From more than 60 players at the clinic, twenty-four will be chosen to comprise the B.C. teams. Later in September the team will begin once weekly four hour workouts in Vancouver. Before the trek to Quebec City the teams hope to organize exhibition games with teams from Washington, Oregon, Alberta and most parts of B.C.

Canada's Sport's and Fitness Council have poured thousands of dollars into the promotion of volleyball. The B.C. Volleyball Association, Okanagan Athletic Camp and the more than 60 players from B.C. hope to reap dividends from their clinic and the generosity of the Fitness Council.

The Tigers bounced back against Washington in the nightcap behind left-hander Johnny Podres, who yielded six hits on the way to his first complete game victory in the league. Homers by Al Kahne, Norm Cash and Mickey Stanley powered the Detroit attack.

Sonny Siebert pitched a six-hitter for his 16th victory and struck out 11 as the Indians ended a five-game losing string in the nightcap against Boston.

Successive third inning homers by Tony Conigliaro and George Scott backed Lee Stange's four-hit pitching in the first game.

Smoke Burgess drove in the tie-breaking run with a pinch hit single in the seventh, sparking a four-run rally that carried the White Sox past Minnesota, 7-4.

Brooksie Jim Nash held Calumet for 1.27 innings and finished with a five-hitter and his 10th victory in 11 decisions. Ed Charles paced the A's with three hits and a pair of RBIs.

Baltimore's Unsung Heroes Lead Birds To Two Victories

Defensive stars Paul Blair and Dave Johnson of Baltimore Orioles, who usually perform in the shadow of Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell, supplied the big punch Monday in a 5-4, 7-4 sweep over New York Yankees in an American League doubleheader.

Powell is nursing a hand injury, Brooks Robinson is battling a prolonged batting slump and Frank Robinson hasn't hit a homer in six games but the Orioles are still winging toward their first modern era pennant.

The Robinsons settled for three singles between them in both games and Powell watched from the bench.

Centerfielder Blair had a homer among his four hits and knocked in five runs, including the winner in the opener.

Second baseman Johnson stroked five hits, including a

Devlin Captures World Tourney

SOUTHPORT, England (CP) — Bruce Devlin, a lanky Australian who almost gave up golf because of varicose veins in his legs, Saturday won the world golf championship.

Devlin carried off first prize of $37,500, but was weary and seemed almost as concerned about his legs as he was about the rich prize.

He had an operation about a year ago to correct the veins and all that remains now are a few scars.

"My legs are much better now," he said, "but I'm really tired from the circuit. I'm going to play several more tournaments and then have a nice long rest."

Devlin had a final round 69, one stroke off the course record. He sank a 20-foot putt on the 16th and that won the game for him. The four-round card was 275-71-69-286.

U.S. Open Champion Bill Casper took home $18,000 for second place, after narrowly missing a 30-foot putt on the final green of the 7,037-yard Royal Birkdale course that would have tied it.

Okanagan Track Club Sweeps To Win At Trail

The Okanagan Track and Field Club ended its 1966 track and field season in grand style at the third Annual Interprovincial Track Meet in Trail, Saturday and Sunday.

All the OTFC did was finish with 597 points to walk away with top honors at the meet. The host club, Trail Track Club finished second with 385 points. Other teams from Spokane, Calgary, Vancouver, Burnaby, Richmond, Seattle and Tacoma attended the meet.

Kelowna and district athletes had a particularly good time at the meet.

Ivars Dravinskis shattered a Canadian record, Sandi Curtis established a meet record and John Hawkins set a provincial record.

Dravinskis performed extremely well picking up two first place finishes and three second place finishes. Ivars' Canadian record was set in the javelin when he threw the spear 170 feet through the air to better the existing record by 3 feet 6 inches. Dravinskis also finished first in the long jump. His second place standings came in the discus, high jump and triple jump.

Hawkins' record came in the juvenile boys' high jump. Hawkins cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches to better the B.C. record by one inch. The Canadian record is 6 feet 4 inches, in his age class. Sandi Curtis' record came in the 80 yard hurdles. Curtis up the other medal finishing first in the 100 yard dash.

The other first place medal was won by Kathy Langham in the open women's shot put. Kathy put the shot 40 feet 6 inches through the air to finish far ahead of the second place competitor. The distance was also the best ever recorded by Kathy.

Three second place finishes were recorded by Brock Aynsley, Joyce Howarth and Gerry Herron.

Aynsley took second in the juvenile boys 440, Howarth in the open women's high jump and Herron in the open men's long jump.

The OTFC had five third place finishers. Muriel Neale of Westbank took third in the mid-get girls 100 yards dash and Astrid Kaminski finished third in the mid-get girls 80 yard hurdles. Kathy Langham added a third place finish to her first place finish in the shot put when she came in third in the open women's discus with a throw of 106 feet 11 1/2 inches. Gerry Herron came third in the open men's triple jump and an open women's relay team made up of Sarah Byatt, Linda White, Joyce Howarth and Kathy Langham finished third in the 440 relay.

More Sports On Pages 8, 12

covered the distance in 12.1 second, to knock 2 of a second off the old mark.

OTFC members won nine other events at the Trail meet.

Eileen Gatzke of Oryama took first in the bantam girls shot with a throw of 33 feet 8 inches. Monica Byatt, also of Oryama, finished first in the bantam girls' high jump with a height of 4 feet 4 inches and Diane Alingham also of Oryama took first in the 80 yard hurdles for bantam girls.

Midget boys took three first place finishes. Don Bassett continued to win pole vaulting events. This time Bassett cleared the bar at 11 feet 6 inches. Alan Larson took first place in the mid-get boys' shot put and the midget boys finished first in the 440 relay.

The juvenile boys finished with two first place medals. Paul Deuling of Lumby took first in the javelin with a heave of 177 feet. Perry Stang picked

Rutland Championship Bid Foiled By Victoria's 7-0 Win

VICTORIA (CP)—Victoria Carlings won the B.C. Senior Men's B softball championship Monday in the final game of the double-loss elimination tournament.

Rutland got past Victoria McLaren's Construction with a 4-1 triumph and then downed Trail 3-2 to reach the final against the winning Victoria squad in other games Monday.

Mike Rye pitched a two-hitter for Victoria Carlings in the final. Rutland's Joe Ostress took the loss.

Canadian Golfer Captures U.S. Amateur Championship

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—Gary Cowan took the top U.S. amateur golf prize home to Canada today with the expressed hope it would be a symbol of victory in future international competition for his countrymen.

The 27-year-old Cowan defeated Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., for the U.S. Amateur title Sunday by a stroke in a playoff at the Merion Golf Club. He shot a five-over-par 75 to 76 for Beman.

It was a close, bitter struggle between the two insurance men and wasn't decided until Cowan closed it with a six-foot putt on the 18th.

Beman, who threw away a three-shot lead Saturday on the final two holes of the regulation 72-hole tournament, was more disgusted than disappointed.

"I didn't make a single mistake," said the 26-year-old two-time champion. "I'm amazed I could shoot a 76 with that few bad shots. I'll be thinking about that for a long time."

Said Cowan: "It doesn't matter how many good shots, or bad shots you make as long as you win."

Asked how he felt to be the first foreigner to win the U.S. amateur title in 34 years, Cowan added:

"I hope it convinces Canadian golfers the Americans can be beaten."

"Our golfers read so many press clippings about how good the Americans are that they feel we can't beat them. I've proved it to myself and played with them long enough to know this isn't true."

Beman and the other Americans will have a chance next month to meet Cowan's indirect challenge. The international golf championship for the Eisenhower Cup is scheduled for Mexico City in October.

It would seem logical to assume that Beman will be a member of the U.S. team. He played in 1962 at Tokyo and it was his 66 against Cowan's 68 that turned the matches in America's favor. The two probably will meet in the rubber match south of the border.

Slovak Wins Madison Race

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—Tahoe Miss, driven by Mira Slovak of Los Angeles, captured the championship heat by more than half a mile Sunday to win the Governor's Cup race for unlimited hydroplanes for the third straight year.

Tahoe Miss was driven to victory here the last two years by Chuck Thompson, killed in the Gold Cup race at Detroit July 3.

The race is decided on a three-heat point total. Tahoe Miss went into the final heat tied at 700 points with Miss Lancer, driven by Warner Gardner of Detroit, and My Gypsy, driven by Jim Ranger of Grosse Point, Mich.

They finished in that order.

Fish-Game Club To Regulate Trophy Winners

At a recent meeting of the Kelowna and District Fish and Game Club it was decided that winners of game trophies during the current season must be members of the club and reside in Game Management Area 7A.

The club has a by-law which requires that trophy winners must be typical and non-male deer both typical and non-typical, whitetail, deer, pheasant, quail and fish. Members trying for trophies can take their catch anywhere in the province except for the fishing division. Fish must be caught from the Okanagan watershed.

Sportsmen's liability insurance is again being included in the club's membership dues.

Migratory bird hunters were reminded that it is now necessary to purchase a migratory bird permit before shooting these birds.

The club has undertaken to erect a sign marker where the new road past Raymer Lake enters Game Management Area 6, as hunting regulations in GMA 6 and GMA 7 and GMA 7A are considerably different.

All hunters and shooters are invited to do some practicing at the Sportsmen's Field range tonight at 6:30 and Sept. 13 at 6:30 p.m.

Coast Women Softball Champs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver defeated Kamloops 7-5 Monday to win the B.C. Senior B Women's softball championship. The Kamloops team blanked Nelson 18-0 earlier in the day to win the consolation round.

The Vancouver team's victory in the games straight to win the championship.

LBJ Has Terrible Temper When His Plans Are Crossed

WASHINGTON (AP) - New indications that President Johnson would blow sky high over news leaks from the White House, particularly those involving presidential appointments. But he went further than President Kennedy in expressing his anger. A few of these hapless choices didn't get their appointments because of the premature announcements.

A sidelight on the less-than-perfect rapport between Johnson and the new Senator Robert F. Kennedy (Dem. N.Y.) also is provided in the book Johnson told him how much he admired John F. Kennedy.

"His admiration, however," the book related, "did not extend to Attorney-General Robert Kennedy who, he was convinced, attempted to sabotage his nomination for the vice-presidency in 1960."

For some weeks after Johnson became president he had excellent relations with the press, Salinger writes, but...

"No president's honeymoon with the press has lasted very long and LBJ's came to an end, too."

LBJ INCENSED
"The president, accustomed to highly-sympathetic treatment by the press in the weeks after the assassination, was incensed by the increasing frequency of tough questions at his press conferences and hostile editorials and columns."

"In common with JFK, President Johnson would blow sky high over news leaks from the White House, particularly those involving presidential appointments. But he went further than President Kennedy in expressing his anger. A few of these hapless choices didn't get their appointments because of the premature announcements."

Commonwealth Ministers Face Gravest Crisis

The Commonwealth prime ministers' meeting which opens in London today is the 16th in a series which began in 1944.

At the last meeting, held in Lagos in January, which was devoted entirely to the question of Rhodesia, the prime ministers agreed to meet again in July if the Rhodesian rebellion had not been ended. However, following consultations, it was agreed that a meeting in September would best serve the general convenience.

It is not the practice to publish the outline agenda in advance of the meeting, but it seems certain that Rhodesia will be a major item on the agenda of the meeting.

At their Lagos meeting the prime ministers, in the words of their communiqué reaffirmed that the authority and responsibility for guiding Rhodesia to independence rested with Britain, but acknowledged that the problem was of wider concern to Africa, the Commonwealth, and the world.

Differing views were expressed as to the rapidity with which the economic and financial measures taken by Britain and other countries might be expected to bring the illegal Rhodesian regime to an end and a sanctions committee was established to review regularly the effect of sanctions and the special needs of Zambia arising from their repercussions on its economy.

Now, as the Commonwealth prime ministers meet, it is clear that Mr. Smith has won the first round of the political and economic contest against the British government. While Mr. Wilson's political and economic difficulties have mounted, Rhodesia's economy—helped by South Africa and Portugal—still gives the appearance of being remarkably healthy, and there is no doubt that Mr. Smith's wide following is as solid as ever.

Even as talks were progressing in Salisbury between British and Rhodesian officials, Mr. Smith moved to revise the Rhodesian constitution so that opponents of his regime may be imprisoned without right of trial. As a result of this move the British officials returned home.

There is no doubt that Mr. Smith's drastic move will have strengthened the determination of some Commonwealth leaders — notably President Kaunda of Zambia—to demand from Mr. Wilson a promise of stronger action. It is believed that Zambia has been trying to get other African governments to consider withdrawing from the Commonwealth if Britain does not use force; but since Mr. Wilson has always set his face against armed intervention, he will simply have to take this chance.

In any event Britain is in no position to maintain a military venture in Rhodesia, plus the large scale and prolonged policing operation that would have to follow if the Smith regime were to be put down by force. In view of all this, Mr. Smith must feel he has manoeuvred himself into a very strong position. He has been able to thumb his nose at Britain and has the prospect of driving a wedge between the Commonwealth countries.

But the Smith regime would do well to remember it is a very small entity in a very big and largely hostile continent. It owes a great deal to the restraint that Britain has shown and her readiness to try talking as an alternative to more drastic action.

If the situation is taken out of Britain's hands, it could prove more drastic for Rhodesia in the long run. Yet, at the same time, Rhodesia's inflexible attitude is likely to land the Commonwealth, at the talks now underway in London, in the biggest crisis it has ever faced. It might even determine whether the Commonwealth can continue to function in its present form.

Lest the situation escalate to the heights of the horrible haggis hassle that hit Ottawa back in 1958, Congress should capitulate immediately. Why, one single pipe, sending its wails vibrating and reverberating down the hallowed halls of Congress would be enough to turn "a formerly peaceful expression of opinion into a full struggle for total victory against the reactionary forces of the high-tariff lobby."

SNOW WHITE AND THE DWARFS

World Poised On Brink Of 'Financial Disaster'

LONDON (CP)—The world is in danger of being plunged into a depression similar to that of the 1930s, union chiefs have been told by Prime Minister Wilson.

One report said Wilson, warning against devaluation of the pound sterling, saw the world "poised on the edge of disaster as bad as that of 1931," facing a global tieup of trade. He told leaders of the 9,000,000-member Trades Union Congress of his

A Wilson aide said later today the prime minister was discussing something that might happen if present trends continued, rather than an immediate prospect.

The prime minister made his estimate in private talks with the TUC in emphasizing the need for the Labor government's wages-and-prices freeze. Written reports now have been circulated to members of the TUC's general council, now in Blackpool preparing for next week's annual meeting of the giant congress.

Wilson, at his own request, is scheduled to address congress delegates at Blackpool Monday in a do-or-die attempt to win support for his pay freeze, which many union leaders regard with deep suspicion.

AIMED AT DOUBTERS
By putting Britain's economic plight in world terms, Wilson apparently hopes to overcome the doubters and appeal to the statesmanship of the union chiefs.

In any case, the economist-premier told the TUC economic committee there is a "terrible shortage" of money to finance international trade. He had discussed this in Washington and Paris with President Johnson and President de Gaulle. James Callaghan, chancellor of the exchequer, was continuing to discuss it with other countries.

The world was on the edge of a disaster as bad as the 1930s at the time of the depression. In 1931, incidentally, the Labor government of Ramsay MacDonald was replaced by a coalition comprising mostly Conservatives and Liberals.

Wilson, in stressing the current shortage of liquidity, said that if Britain is forced to devalue the pound sterling, other countries will have to follow.

MONEY BUYS LESS
Money generally would then be worth less and would buy less goods, so trade would inevitably slow down. International liquidity is scheduled to be among topics discussed next week at the Commonwealth prime ministers conference in London.

The dire warnings apparently convinced the TUC economic chiefs of the need for following the government line, especially when it was argued that unemployment in Britain might rise past 500,000 to as high as 2,000,000 if there was a world slump.

It was in 1931, when there were 2,750,000 unemployed here, that Britain was driven off the gold standard and the Labor party split, leading to formation of a national government under MacDonald.

SWIM FOR REVOLUTION
HONG KONG (AP) — Shanghai Radio predicts at least 25 per cent of China's 700,000,000 people will plunge into a new mass swim campaign under the slogan "We swim for the revolution." In last year's campaign, at least 20 Chinese fled to the West by swimming from Canton to nearby Portuguese Macao.

TO INCREASE RIGHTS?
ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — The U.S. Bill of Rights will eventually be broadened to include the right to health and the right to be different, says Dr. Richard Farson, director of the Western Psychological Sciences Institute. He said other constitutional rights will include the right to intimacy, sexual fulfillment, travel, study, album and leisure.

Personally Speaking

By VEN. D. S. CATCHPOLE, B.A., D.D.

"GIVE ME THY VINEYARD"
Once upon a time there was a king who wanted to make a kitchen garden out of some property belonging to one of his subjects and so he sought to expropriate the land in question. He said, "Give me your vineyard and I will give you another bit of ground; or I will pay you money."

But the owner said, "No, I won't give or sell you my vineyard because I value it and want to keep it." This made the king very angry but he didn't know what to do about it. His wife, however, had a good idea. She had the stubborn owner of the vineyard killed and then the king took over possession.

We don't go to quite this extreme today but we still have expropriation and, I suppose, we shall always have it; but it can become a bit too easy and I am afraid that there are mighty men of political valour who disregard the rights of owners and they seize what they want no matter how offensive this may be to those owners.

Now, it is not always land. Sometimes it is something quite other, like the shares of a company. I was interested to hear a leading politician say the other day that, if elected, he (he may have said 'we' or 'our') would take over a certain company. Directly afterwards, the opposing leader said that he would not take over that company. In either case, it would respectfully submit, the statement indicates unmitigated gall.

It is just as if these two political birds came and perched on my windowsill, looked over the furniture inside, and made opposing statements about whether or not they would take it over.

So it happens that I do not trust the second politician because once before he took over a company which, to some degree (unfortunately a small one), belong to me. He did not ask my permission as an owner of stock; he just bullied his colleagues into agreeing and then stepped in and took over.

No matter what he says now, he could change his mind and he could still take over this other company in which I have shares also. He would do it without any "by your leave". He would just decide that it was good for me, whether I agreed or not.

The first politician I don't trust either, and so there you have it. They will take or they will not take, my possessions; and neither of them would have the courtesy to ask for them, as did the king in my story and he was a rogue and became a criminal.

What are we to say about these political kings who decide whether or not they shall dispossess us and, if they do, just how much they will provide in the way of payment?

It took hard fighting to get a decent price for the shares of that other company and cost a lot of legal fees. I do not doubt.

This is the government that gets things done. Agreed! But it does matter, don't you think, about the way in which this government gets things done? I was under the impression that we lived in a democracy but not all imperial monarchs wear crowns.

All they need is to be crowned with a majority which enables them to ride roughshod over the opposition and to seize whatever vineyard they choose to acquire. They do not have to commit murder.

They simply say, "Poor silly people! What I have decided to do is good for you. Trust me. I know best. But don't oppose me because if you do I will override your objections and take what you will not willingly give."

Mind you, expropriation is not confined to government take-overs. Labor and management are terribly efficient at this game also. Between these two groups, the "forgotten people" (of who I have written before) lose their security and their possessions and there is not a thing they can do about it. The two groups take a look at what an individual has and they say (though perhaps in not so many words): "Here is some loot to be had for the taking. We will mulct them for every cent we can get and they won't be able to stop us if they try we will stop trains, tie up ships, ground aeroplanes, quit clearing up garbage, stop admitting patients and refuse to deliver mail!"

Shades of Hounslow Heath and the redoubted Dick Turpin (highwayman extraordinary): "Your money is your life," he cooed down the ages. The words used to be uttered by footpads or thieves on horseback. Now it is a saying, said by others, but it still means barefaced robbery; and always it is the little guy who gets his wallet hooked—the little guy who has no means of fighting back.

"And so, small man: give me your vineyard, OR ELSE!"

Czolgosz may have been weak-minded but little is known about him because he was executed soon after a speedy trial. The assassination caused a new attitude towards the president's security, because Czolgosz had simply queued up to shake McKinley's hand, concealing his pistol under a handkerchief.

CANADA'S STORY

Nelson Almost Wed Girl From Quebec

By BOB BOWMAN

One of Canada's most distinguished visitors over the years was Horatio Nelson, but the story is little known. Nelson spent September 1826 in Quebec, and fell in love with Mary Simpson, 16-year-old daughter of the Provost Marshal of the garrison.

It was during the American Revolutionary War and Nelson was the young captain of a frigate, the Albemarle. While he was searching for privateers off the coast of Nova Scotia, Nelson's crew began to suffer from scurvy and he got permission to take the ship to Quebec for a refit.

September is one of the most delightful months of the year in Quebec, with autumn leaves adding their brilliant colors, and Nelson fell under its spell, especially with the help of Mary Simpson. With his usual impetuosity he wanted to marry her right away, but his friends felt that an early marriage, especially with an unknown Canadian girl, might hurt his career. They could not change Nelson's mind, however, and it is said that they pulled strings to have the Albemarle ordered back to sea duty in a hurry. Nelson never got back to Canada, or Mary Simpson, again.

While Nelson was active in North American waters, he also met Prince William, a son of George III, who later became King William IV. They became life-long friends, Prince William was a midshipman on the frigate Bellerophon when he met Nelson for the first time at Staten Island. He said that Nelson appeared to be the youngest captain he had ever seen, but obviously had a great career ahead of him. Later, when Prince William became captain of the frigate Pegasus, Nelson said that he was "a seaman".

Prince William got into many escapades, and Nelson once rescued him in Havana when he was mobbed by a group of men because he was having an affair with the daughter of a Spanish admiral.

'St. Theresa's Church Scene Of Schneider-Neal Wedding

Pink gladioli and white tapers decorated St. Theresa's Roman Catholic Church on Saturday, August 27 for the afternoon wedding of Marion Elizabeth Neal of Edmonton, daughter of Mrs. Doreen Neal of Rutland, to L.A.C. Bernard Peter Schneider of Edmonton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schneider of Rutland. Rev. Father Gregory Schneider of Bellingham, Washington, an uncle of the groom, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The lovely bride who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, David McLaren of Greenwood, chose a floor length gown of white peau de soie fashioned on empire lines with lily point sleeves, and a lace bordered train attached at the shoulders. Her headdress was a white satin gardenia with net petals holding in place her shoulder length veil of white silk netting. Red roses formed the bride's bouquet.

Something borrowed was the satin gardenia of the headdress, and for something blue a blue garter.

Mrs. David McLaren, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Sandra McFarlane of Kelowna and Miss Joan Schneider, sister of the groom. The three attendants wore similar floor length dresses of china blue peau de soie styled on princess lines and their headpieces were china blue flowers with matching veiling.

The little flower girl, Donna Runzer, wore a floor length empire dress of white peau de soie with blue trim, and she carried a bouquet of small white mums and red roses.

Attending the groom were Donald Schneider, Arnold Schneider, and Jerry Runzer, all of Rutland, and the ushers were Robert Neal and Harold Schneider. A friend of the family was the soloist and sang "Cry out with Joy to the Lord," "Lord Accept the Gifts we Offer," "Panis Angelicus" and "The Lord is My Shepherd." The accompanist was Mrs. Ratcliffe of Kelowna.

At the reception in the East Kelowna hall the bride's mother received wearing a turquoise two-piece dress with lace trim, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, wore a blue empire dress with matching jacket, a white hat and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table was covered with a lace table cloth and was centered by a lovely looking wedding cake topped with silver and white bells, and flanked by white tapers in silver holders.

Rev. Father F. L. Flynn proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

For the honeymoon trip to southern points the bride chose a herringbone suit in black and brown wool with patent shoes and purse.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. William Lowery of Summerland; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Baker and daughter Lauren of Monte Lake; Mr. and Mrs. David McLaren of Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Manson of Midway; Mrs. Elaine Neilson of Edmonton; Miss Anne Pato of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flynn of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Mayer of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Junk and family of Cloverdale, B.C.; and Mrs. Joseph Flynn of Toronto and Father Gregory Schneider of Bellingham.

The groom is stationed in Edmonton with the RCAF and the young couple will reside at No. 11 106451st, Edmonton.

ANN LANDERS

Each Must Be Judged By His Own Merits

Dear Ann Landers: Recently an irate mother wrote and asked why you never had any kind words for the unwed father. Your reply was very sympathetic. You said you had no good correct medals lying around for unwed fathers and that it was always the girl who paid. You added, "The boy can go about his business. Nothing changes for him."

I disagree. I am not an unwed father but my best buddy is. Believe me he has paid plenty. He got the news when he was a junior in college. He actually wanted to marry the girl but her folks were against it and she listened to them—not to him. His life changed that very day. He began to feel depressed and couldn't study. His grades went to the dogs. He flunked out of school and had to take a laborer's job. He is paying child support and he will continue to pay until the child is 21. The worst of it is the guy feels so guilty and worthless now that he refuses to take out a girl. He doesn't think he's good enough for anybody.

Some unwed fathers may be bums but some are good guys who made a mistake. In this case the girl will make a much better adjustment than the boy, and I'll bet on it — FOR JUSTICE

Dear Justice: You are right. I should not have expressed the point in such broadly general terms. Dozens of parents, social workers and yes, even unwed mothers, wrote to protest. Each individual deserves to be judged on his own merits and I am grateful to you and to other readers who reminded me.

Dear Ann Landers: I know your column is not billboard for family fights but I hope you'll make an exception and print this letter.

My brother and his wife bought a poodle for their children. When I heard they named the dog Pearl after our dear mother who passed away last November I was shocked. No finer woman ever lived and I consider this a shocking way to honor her memory.

I couldn't believe that grown people could be so stupid and insensitive and I told them so.

AROUND TOWN

The Kelowna and District Garden Club extends a cordial invitation to all garden lovers to attend their monthly meeting, which will be held in the Martin Elementary School on Wednesday, Sept. 7, at 8 p.m. The showing of flowers for competition is always interesting and there will be 10 classes in the floral display, with seven challenge cups to be awarded to the winners. Another highlight of the evening will be a talk by Edwin Gregory on points gained or lost when a judge awards first, second and third prizes in each class.

Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin left today for Vancouver Island where she is driving her daughter, Fiona, who is returning to Queen Margaret's School, and her daughter Janet who will begin her studies there this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dunlop, Lawrence Ave., left by car on the weekend for Saskatchewan where they will enjoy a two weeks vacation visiting relatives and friends.

Surgeon To Operate On Siamese Twins

TORONTO (CP)—A 3½-month waiting period will end in mid-September when a team of 20 men and women will work in the operating room at the Hospital for Sick Children to separate the McGee Siamese twins. Surgery to separate Sherry Ann and Crystal Ann McGee of Guelph, joined face to face from chest to naval, is scheduled unless sudden illness in one of them requires it to be done sooner.

The twins were taken to the hospital from Guelph June 2. The twins' surgeon, Dr. James S. Simpson, has gathered all reports he could find about the separation of conjoined twins. He has communicated with other surgeons who have done this operation and held many meetings with other specialists to discuss treatment, the planned operation and post-operative care.

The doctors are still extremely cautious about the babies' chances of survival. Crystal Ann has been weaker than her sister from birth and attending physicians term her "constitutionally inadequate." She is less vital, more apathetic than lively Sherry Ann, who has a good chance of growing up to be a normal, healthy woman.

Dr. Simpson said speed is vital to minimize shock and he hopes the operation will be completed in less than two hours. Separation is only part of the operation and the lesser part if all goes according to expectations. After separation comes the closing of a massive opening over the whole upper abdomen and lower chest completely lacking the skin and layers of muscle that support internal organs.

Attending the afternoon tea were former school-fellows of Mrs. Daly's at George Pringle High: Mrs. Ted Careless, Peachland and her small son, Scott; Mrs. Don MacKay, Peachland, with Shelley and Shaun; Mrs. Bert Young of Vernon; Mrs. J. A. Goulet of Kelowna and Mrs. Isao Terai of Rutland with Mark. Mrs. Carl Wiggins of Rose Valley, with daughters Denise, Kim and their baby sister; Mrs. W. G. Bregeda of Trempanier, with Leslie and Michael; Mrs. Clare Turigan, with Alana, Laurie and Michael of Westbank; and Mrs. Victor Bay and Kim, who are holidaying here from the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smid and family, including Mrs. Smid's mother Mrs. Emma Wolfe, returned home this week from a summer spent at Prince Rupert, during which they motored to various points, including as far north as Trutch Mountain on the Alaska highway. They motored home via Jasper, Edmonton and south.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gellatly of Canberry Lake were Okanagan visitors this week, when besides visiting Mrs. Gellatly's mother, Mrs. Leslie, in Penticton, they were guests of Mr. Gellatly's brothers, J. U. Gellatly, Westbank and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gellatly, Okanagan Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hewlett, with Joyce and Carol, motored to the coast for the holiday weekend, when they visited Mr. Hewlett's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Macklin and family at Langley, and while in Vancouver, took in the PNE.

Banquet And Dance Follow Renewal Of Marriage Vows

Marking 25 years of marriage Mr. and Mrs. George N. Vetter, Aberdeen St., renewed their wedding vows during a special Mass held in their honor at the Immaculate Conception Church at 6 p.m. on August 27.

Following the Mass Mr. and Mrs. Vetter were the surprised guests of honor at a banquet and dance held in the Crystal Room of the Capri Motor Hotel. Entering the banquet room to the strains of the "Wedding March," played by Mrs. Victor Schmidt, the popular couple received the congratulations of the guests.

Centering the head table was a tiered wedding cake topped by a silver anniversary cup and flanked by silver candelabra and bouquets of gladioli. During the banquet George Sinkewicz acted as master of ceremonies, and Allan Vetter, eldest son of the honored couple, proposed the toast to his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Vetter then cut the cake with a silver knife decorated with a large silver bow and distributed slices to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Vetter danced the first number to a beautiful rendition of the "Anniversary Waltz" played on the saxophone. Music for the dancing which followed was provided by Jerry Sandbrooks and his orchestra, while Fred Vetter served the refreshments.

Following the dance the guests proceeded to a reception at the Vetter home to hear the details of Mr. and Mrs. Vetter's recent trip to Halifax, Nova Scotia, where they attended the "Protes-daughter Bernice on August 15. They returned home via Montreal where they spent some time touring the city.

American Girls Are Caught In Middle Of Marriage Squeeze

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The United States is caught in the middle of a marriage squeeze.

It looks as if 500,000 or more young girls are going to have to postpone their first marriage, or get hooked to somebody in normal times, or — worst of fates — not get married at all.

The cause is the baby boom that followed the Second World War. The babies are grown up now and the girls are looking for husbands.

The trouble is that gals get hitched younger than guys — ages 18 to 22 for females versus 20 to 24 for males. And most of the guys who were born during the baby boom aren't old enough, statistically speaking, to march to the altar.

It was all described to the American Sociological Association convention by two men from the U.S. census bureau, Paul C. Glick and Robert Parke Jr. In a paper they said:

"The evidence so far suggests that in the first part of the 1960s, the marriage squeeze was resolved in large part by changes in the marriage patterns of the women, and not by alteration of the trend of ages at first marriage for men."

"The young men have been successfully warding off any pressure from the mounting numbers of marriageable young women."

If the pattern continues, the sociologists said, more than "a half-million women will have to postpone getting married."

But the young bachelors had better enjoy it while they can. In the 1970s, the ratio will return to 99 guys to 100 gals.

"Generally speaking, the squeeze can be resolved in any or all of several ways:

"By the boys marrying for the first time at younger ages, "Or by the girls marrying for the first time at older ages, "Or by the girls marrying older widowed and divorced men, or older single men who might otherwise have never married."

"Or" — and here the paper let out the brutal news — "it is possible that more girls will ultimately not marry at all."

NOT ENOUGH MEN
The hard facts are that in the late 1950s there were 99 marriage-age young men for every 100 marriage-ready girls. But in the early 1960s, the figure dropped to 94 guys for every 100 gals. Now it is down to 93 fellows for every 100 females.

In the cautious phrases of the scientist, Glick and Parke struck a statistical blow for the American male:

"The evidence so far suggests that in the first part of the 1960s, the marriage squeeze was resolved in large part by changes in the marriage patterns of the women, and not by alteration of the trend of ages at first marriage for men."

"The young men have been successfully warding off any pressure from the mounting numbers of marriageable young women."

If the pattern continues, the sociologists said, more than "a half-million women will have to postpone getting married."

But the young bachelors had better enjoy it while they can. In the 1970s, the ratio will return to 99 guys to 100 gals.

Special Legislative Session For Saskatchewan Oil Dispute

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's first special legislative session in four years will be called next week to consider a bill providing permanent compulsory arbitration which would end a strike against the Saskatchewan Power Corp.

Premier Ross Thatcher announced the session Thursday after the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union served notice its 1,200 members would start a strike at 3 p.m. CST, Friday.

Contract negotiations broke down Thursday. The union sought an eight per cent wage increase and the SPC offered four per cent. Unskilled labor now receives $13.31 an hour with foremen getting a maximum of $3.31 an hour.

The last special session was a one-day affair Aug. 2, 1962. Called by the then CCF government, it ratified an agreement which ended a withdrawal of services by doctors in the province's medical care crisis.

Mr. Thatcher said the proposed legislation would follow a measure drafted by the former CCF government in 1955 when a power strike threatened.

and the unions "backed off," Mr. Thatcher said.

The premier said Saskatchewan is one of the few provinces without legislation providing compulsory arbitration in disputes with Crown-owned utilities. "In the future... negotiations with power or gas employees should be settled by arbitration."

The strike will have little or no immediate effect on operations or service, SPC officials said. More than 200 supervisory personnel will maintain services to about 200,000 customers in 200 communities. Electrical service provided by the $600,000,000 corporation is not affected.

The SPC employs a total of about 3,000 workers and has an annual payroll of more than $17,000,000.

Opposition Leader Woodrow Lloyd, in New Westminster, B.C., where he was campaigning in the Sept. 12 B.C. election on behalf of NDP candidates, said he would attend the session in the 59-member house. Standing is Liberals 33, CCF 26, and one Progressive Conservative.

Mr. Lloyd said five months of meetings went by without the government doing anything. "The final offer from them... is less than general settlements with this union in several parts of Canada."

'UNIONS BACKED OFF'

At that time former premier T. C. Douglas, now national NDP leader, called in the union leaders, showed them the bill

Opening lead — king of diamonds.

Let's say you're declarer at four spades and West leads the A-K-Q of diamonds. You ruff and naturally start to worry about the possibility of losing a trump trick.

Of course, this can't happen if the trumps are divided 2-1, as they normally would be. But, being a conscientious declarer, you must consider the possible 3-0 division and prepare to cope with it if it exists.

If West has the Q-7-4 of trumps, the winning play would be to cash the king and then finesse after East showed out. However, if East has the Q-7-4, you should first cash the ace and then finesse.

You have no way of knowing which defender has the three missing spades, but there is nevertheless a right way of tackling the trumps so as to assure the contract. What you should do is lead a low spade towards dummy at trick four.

In the actual case, West immediately shows out and you have no trouble drawing East's trumps without loss. You take a heart finesse later, which loses, but you wind up with ten tricks.

Now let's look at the other side of the coin and assume that after you led a spade to the ace at trick four East showed out. This would be an unfavorable development, of course, but the contract would still be safe regardless of the position of the queen of hearts.

You would continue with a spade to the king, after which you would cash the K-A of clubs and ruff a club. You would then put West on lead with a spade and he would have to return a heart into your K-J-5 or else yield a ruff and discard.

The problem at the start is not so much to guess which opponent has the three spades as it is to play the suit so that you make the contract even if you guess wrong.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Despite good Venus aspects now governing personal relationships, some restrictions are imposed by other planetary influences. Notably a need for care in all correspondence and communications generally; also infatuations. Neither is this a good period for launching new enterprises.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, while you can make good job headway during the next 12 months, it would be advisable to concentrate on reasonable goals rather than to strive for the impossible. In three months, you will enter an excellent period along these lines—one which will last until the middle of February but, after that, except for a brief period during the last two weeks in April and in June, you will have to keep plugging until August 1st, when you will enter your second really good cycle for advancing career matters.

Where finances are concerned, the aforementioned mid-December-mid-February weeks should also prove profitable, with further advances indicated in June, August and September. Do be conservative during intervening months, however—especially in November and the first three weeks of December.

Along personal lines: Best cycles for romance: Late December (an all-around good period for all Virgoans), next April, May and August. The balance of 1966 does not promise much in the way of travel, but you can look forward to extremely propitious periods for "taking off" in early February and during the weeks between May 15th and September 10th of next year. If careful to avoid friction in close circles during early March and early June, your domestic and social life should prove most harmonious.

A child born on this day will be endowed with remarkable intuition, fair mindedness to an unusual degree, and fine literary ability.

TRY AND STOP ME

By Bennett Cerf

IN THE DAYS before the steel industry was fully unionized, there was a very tough owner named "Jimmy" Corrigan with whom employees were loath to tangle. One foreman, however, did brace him at the beginning of a new year for a hefty raise in pay, citing his inestimable value to the company, and the savings he had already accomplished therefor.

"Mr. Kowalski," replied Corrigan disarmingly, "I am sure you have done everything you claim. I do not doubt your value to our company. But have you ever stopped to think what we would do if you should die?"

Nonplussed, Kowalski stammered, "Why, Mr. Corrigan, I suppose you'd have to find somebody who could take my place."

"Exactly," nodded Corrigan. "Consider yourself dead!" (And I'd like to see him get away with something like that in 1966!)

A handsome young couple was walking dreamily under the stars in Barbados. The girl gazed fondly at her partner and murmured, "You're the kind of man I feel I can trust." "Really?" replied the boy soulfully. "Say, we must have met some place before. Your faith seems familiar."

Politicians Pondering Perils

LONDON (CP) — Politicians will have cause to ponder the perils of politics when the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference opens Tuesday.

Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, host of the last conference, held in Lagos, Nigeria, in January, was slain soon after that meeting, martyr of his country's racial and regional differences.

President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana was deposed in February and now is in exile in Guinea.

Nkrumah, 57, who led Ghana to independence in 1947, was for a brief period senior head of Government in the Commonwealth, after the January retirement of Australia's Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies at the age of 70. Representing Australia this time is Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Now top in seniority is Tunku Abdul Rahman, 63, who became prime minister of newly independent Malaya in August, 1957, and then prime minister of Malaysia when Malaya was united with some other former British colonies in August, 1963.

Represented for the first time will be Guyana, the former British Guiana, which increases the total of independent Commonwealth countries to 23.

Only 14 government heads will attend next week's conference. Arnold Smith of Canada, head of the Commonwealth secretariat, said it is no longer unusual, however, for prime ministers or presidents to send deputies to such a meeting.

Ugly Word Aired Now

NEW YORK (AP) — The ugly word "depression" cropped up last week in speculation about the course of the American economy.

Until now, "recession" was the strongest word used by economists and government officials who were apprehensive about the outlook.

In a rare public statement, former president Truman warned that spiralling interest rates could result in serious depression.

Since last December the federal reserve board has boosted the prime interest rate charged to banks' best and biggest customers to six per cent from 4.5 per cent.

President Johnson said he could not agree with Truman.

DECLINE WAS STEADY
Stock prices dropped sharply Monday in the steady decline since the market reached its all-time high last February.

Then the market rebounded strongly. However, many analysts termed the advance a technical recovery and cautioned that the familiar worries still were overhanging the market.

New orders received by manufacturers in July dipped to $45,560,000,000 from $45,830,000,000 in June. Shipments climbed to $44,400,000,000 from $44,130,000,000.

Automobile production this week doubled to an estimated 101,300 passenger cars. This compared with 48,910 last week and 55,925 a year ago.

Steel production rose 2.4 per cent last week to 2,560,000 tons from 2,501,000 tons the previous week.

Bullets Foil Berlin Flight

BERLIN (Reuters) — Sub-machine-gun fire foiled today the escape of an East German as he tried to slip over barbed wire fences into West Berlin police said.

Witnesses gave two versions of the incident and a police spokesman said he could not say which was right.

One report said the man, about 25 years old, collapsed and was dragged to a nearby earth bunker where the shots originated.

But other witnesses in West Berlin said later they saw the man being led away at gunpoint by East German border guards to the bunker and then taken away by ambulance.

LYLE HICKSON OF VERNON
Winner of Kel-Win's Gold Cup Race

Out-Of-Town Drivers Dominate Gold Cup Race

Experience moved quickly to the front Monday as out-of-town drivers placed one, two, three in the 50-lap Gold Cup race at the Kel-Win Speedway.

Lyle (The Viking) Hickson of Vernon displayed some of the best skill seen on the track this season as he lapped the entire field after starting second from the rear of the 16-car pack.

About 1,600 stock car racing fans, by far the largest crowd of the year, watched 116 laps of racing in seven events.

Two Lower Mainland drivers travelled to Kelowna from Langley Saturday for the Gold Cup event and their trips were not wasted as Larry Gibbons and Doug Firth placed second and third behind Hickson. The best local finish was provided by John Sharples who pushed his pink beast into fourth place after starting at the back of the field.

Sharples posted the fastest time of the pre-race time trials and used his position to good advantage as he drove to a four-length win in the five-lap trophy dash for the four fastest cars of the time trials. Hickson placed second, with Gibbons third.

In the six-car, 10-lap slow heat for the slowest cars of the trials, Pete Smirle moved steadily from last to first place, taking the checkered flag ahead of Bruce Kitch and Allan Wolfe.

Joe Harvey held his pole position all the way in the 10-lap second heat, but was pushed hard by Firth and managed only a half-length win over the visiting bearded driver. Rookie Neil Roth placed third.

Dave Taylor, Gibbons and Hickson finished bumper-to-bumper in the 10-lap fast heat, with Taylor again making the pole position pay off.

CARS TANGLE

Popular Jack Comis had the front end of his car damaged in the race when he tangled with Sharples who got into trouble trying to pass on the outside. Comis spent the rest of the afternoon helping track officials prevent trouble in the pits between drivers who were becoming uneasy as the Gold Cup event neared.

Hickson warmed up for his 50-lap event victory by placing first in the 17-lap A main event. Gibbons placed second, followed by Smirle.

Sharples picked up his second win of the afternoon by taking advantage of the breaks in the 14-lap B main race and crossing the finish line ahead of Joe Ewasiv and Roth.

Track officials announced racing will continue until bad weather hits the district. The special race next Sunday will be a newsmen's event, featuring those hearties who have not left town in panic-stricken haste.

The Courier's "Company of Champions" Driving Team will lead the way, on the track, that

Record Hamilton Crowd Watches Ti-Cats Victory

HAMILTON (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders haven't won a football game here since 1963 and Monday's loss to Hamilton Tiger-Cats cost them sole possession of first place in the Eastern Football Conference standings.

A record Hamilton crowd of 29,003 saw the Tiger-Cats wipe out an Ottawa lead on Bobby Kuntz's fourth-quarter touchdown for a 16-12 victory. That pushed Hamilton's record to four victories against one defeat, the same as the Riders, and set the stage for a showdown battle between the two clubs Saturday afternoon in Ottawa.

The Tiger-Cats have fallen into the habit of relying on their defensive squad the last couple of seasons. They followed the same script Monday but also got a boost from Joe Zuger who came out of a three-week layoff to quarterback the team through most of the game and contribute eight points on a touchdown and two singles.

Zuger's touchdown came in the second quarter on a keeper play from the Ottawa four. His two singles measured 45 yards from the line of scrimmage, but one of them, the first point of the game, was a dandy. It was against the wind, gusting to about 20 miles an hour and travelled 65 yards before landing in the Ottawa end zone. That turned out to be the only point scored by either team against the wind.

GETS TWO POINTS

Don Sutherland kicked a pair of singles in the second quarter, both on off-target attempts for field goals. One was from the Ottawa 47 and the other from the Ottawa 33. He also was wide of the mark on a convert after Zuger's touchdown and saw his convert on Kuntz's touchdown thwarted by a bad snap.

Ottawa got a touchdown from Whit Tucker, who gathered in a 12-yard pass from Russ Jackson after getting loose in the end zone. Moe Racine converted it and kicked a 47-yard field goal in the first quarter.

The Rough Riders' remaining two points came on a third-quarter safety touch when tackle Bob Brown trapped Zuger in his own end zone.

The crowd, which broke a Hamilton record of 28,007 set in 1963, saw the Tiger-Cats defence hold Ottawa to only 147 yards, 82 of them rushing, and eight first downs. Hamilton rolled up 287 yards; 153 on the ground, and 16 first downs.

Hamilton lost 62 yards on 10 penalties and Ottawa 51 yards on six penalties.

Two Interlocking Games Swept By Western Clubs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The West scored a sweep over the East Monday in Canadian Football League interlocking games.

Montreal Alouettes, fresh from a 42-win over Winnipeg Blue Bombers, moved into Regina and were ambushed 44-0 by Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Toronto Argonauts winless in the East, met the injury-riddled Calgary Stampeders and are still winless. The Stamps won 12-8 but lost another first-string player in the process.

Tight end Irlin Harrison is out for the season with torn knee ligaments. He is the fifth first-stringer the Stamps have lost this year. Already on the sidelines are Lovell Coleman, Ted Woods and Bill Gaskins with torn achilles tendons, and Jim Furlong with a knee injury.

The loss left Argos deep in the Eastern Football Conference basement, unless in five out of six.

The Alouettes have a 3-3 record while Hamilton and Ottawa share the lead with a 4-1 record.

The win was the second in three starts for Calgary and gave the Stamps fourth place in the Western Football Conference.

TAKE WFC LEAD

Saskatchewan took the conference lead in a lopsided 62-0 victory over the Riders. The Roughriders now have a 5-2 record, good for a one-point lead over the Riders.

game lead over Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Edmonton Eskimos.

George Reed and Hugh Campbell each scored three touchdowns in the massacre. Jack Abernethy kicked a field goal and five converts.

Montreal coach Darryl Mudra said after the game the Roughriders were "ready for us and if they kept playing like that, there is nothing to stop them going to the Grey Cup. (Ron) Lancaster and Campbell were simply marvelous."

Lancaster went 14 for 15 in the passing department.

The Saskatchewan defence limited Montreal to 100 yards along the ground and 39 through the air. Three Montreal passes were picked off.

Saskatchewan had 195 yards rushing and 247 passing.

In Calgary, Janker Terry Evanshen scored the only Calgary touchdown on an 11-yard pass from Peter Liske. Larry Robinson added two field goals and a convert.

IRWIN SCORES TOO

Toronto's touchdown was collected by Al Irwin on a 74-yard pass and run play. John Viliunas converted and scored a single on a wide fieldgoal attempt.

Calgary had only 64 yards rushing, 62 of them by Arnie Baker, the big fullback who scored on a 52-yard run.

Pirates Lead Drops After Holiday Split

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh's theme song started out as Happy Birthday to You, but the Pirates ended up singing the blues.

Bill Mazeroski celebrated his 30th birthday Monday with a grand slam homer in the third inning of Pittsburgh's 13-5 blitz of Atlanta Braves in the first game of a doubleheader. Mazeroski came back with a bases-empty shot in the sixth inning and he also drove in a run in the first with an infield out.

But in the nightcap, Braves' pitcher Tony Cloninger breezed into the ninth inning with a six-run margin, having allowed the Pirates just three hits. The Pirates scored four runs in the final frame, but Cloninger held on and the Braves won 7-5.

With the split, Pittsburgh's National League lead dwindled to a game and a half over second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, who beat San Francisco Giants 4-1. The Giants fell 2½ games off the pace in third his second this season and the third of his career. He has 15 homers this season.

REDS TAKE TWO

Cincinnati Reds swept a doubleheader from New York Mets 8-2 and 8-5, the second game in 10 innings. Philadelphia lost 5-4 and then won 7-2 over Chicago Cubs, and St. Louis Cardinals defeated Houston Astros 4-1 but lost the nightcap 6-0.

Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 9-5 Sunday. Atlanta blanked Houston 2-0. Philadelphia shut out New York 5-0. San Francisco defeated St. Louis 9-2 and Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 8-6.

In Saturday's action, Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 9-1. St. Louis edged San Francisco 3-2. Los Angeles downed Cincinnati 7-3. Philadelphia defeated New York 8-4 while Houston lost 12-2 and 6-4 to Atlanta.

The Dodgers snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning with four bases on balls and wrapped it up with a run-scoring single by Willie Davis in the ninth, followed by Tommy Davis' run-scoring double.

Willie Davis' and Hal Lanier of the Giants matched solo homers earlier in the game. Billy Hoelt issued three of the ninth-inning walks, one intentionally, but Frank Lutz, who walked leadoff hitter Jim Gilliam, took the defeat.

CROWD SETS RECORD

A crowd of 54,769 turned out to see the traditional rivals, the largest crowd ever to see a daytime game in Dodger Stadium.

Gordy Coleman's pinch-hit single in the 10th inning of the second game broke the tie and started a four-run Cincinnati rally that beat the Mets. Leo Cardenas and Tommy Helms homered for the Reds in the opener. Cardenas and Vada Pinson homered in the nightcap as did Cleon Jones for the Mets.

Rich Allen's 37th homer and a four-run ninth inning gave Philadelphia all the runs it needed in the finale after Glenn Beckert's two-run, two-out single gave the Cubs the opener. Beckert has now hit safely in 16 straight games.

Tulsa, Seattle Crowned PCL Division Champions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Neither of the division champs in the Pacific Coast League looked very impressive Monday night.

Denver won both ends of a double bill with the Tulsa Oilers, tops in the eastern division, taking the opener 2-0 and winning the nightcap 5-4.

And Hawaii whitewashed the Seattle Angels, holders of the western division pennant, 3-0.

Tacoma won both games in a twin bill against Vancouver 4-1 and 5-3. San Francisco drubbed Phoenix 4-1, but Phoenix came back in a second game 7-4 in 11 innings. Spokane beat Portland 6-4, and Indianapolis punished Oklahoma City twice, 17-8 and 6-1.

Curt Sauer limited Tulsa to three hits in going the distance for Denver in their opener. Ron Henry banged out his 16th homer of the season to help Sauer out.

and, in the nightcap, drove in the winning run in the final frame.

Pete Craig chalking his 14th win against 13 losses in pitching all the way for Hawaii. His teammates backed him up with seven singles to plate the Islanders' three runs. Craig struck out four and walked one.

The Angels now meet the Tulsa Oilers in a best-of-seven playoff.

Ernie Broglio scattered seven hits in hurling Tacoma to its first win over Vancouver. The lone Vancouver run was Ricardo Joseph's in the second inning. Tacoma scored all its runs in the first two frames of the second contest. Ramon Webster clouted a two-run homer for the Mounties in the sixth.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Excludes healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores. Satisfaction or your money refunded.

U.S. Loses More Jets

SAIGON (CP)—U.S. military headquarters said today two more U.S. planes were shot down over North Viet Nam Friday during raids on the main supply and infiltration routes to the south.

The losses of the latest two planes raised to 357 the number of American warplanes to go down in action over North Viet Nam.

One plane was a Navy A-1 Skyraider from the aircraft carrier Intrepid which was shot down 35 miles northwest of Dong Hoi Friday. The other was an air force F-105 Thunderchief which went down 40 miles north of the same coastal city.
